Suit weakens city ties with school district

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

The lawsuit filed by the Romulus Community School District against the city of Romulus has further weakened the already strained relationship between Superintendent Dr. William Bedell and Mayor Beverly McAnally.

A symbol of that frayed relationship was displayed by Bedell Monday night, as school board members leisurely trooped into his office prior to the regular board meeting.

The symbol was a prickly potted cactus plant supposedly sent to him Monday by McAnally. The accompanying card stated "Congratulations! I hear you are a finalist. Bon Voyage. Your Friend, Beverly McAnally."

Bedell doubted it came from the mayor, despite the signed card. He thought it was a practical joke from a local councilman signifying the long-standing tension between the two leaders.

The note attached to the cactus referred to Bedell being one of the "finalists" in an out-of-the-area school administrator's job. Bedell would only say, "I wasn't a finalist."

No mention was made of the actual job opportunity being referred to on the card.

Neither Bedell nor McAnally could be reached Tuesday for further comment.

When asked last Friday what action the city would take in the lawsuit, McAnally said, "I'm not sure. We have never been sued by a local taxing body before."

"But we have turned the matter over to our city attorney," McAnally explained.

A summary of the lawsuit was released by Bedell Monday morning. It states, "Although the city first established its Tax Increment Financing Authority in 1984, it has only been since the Romulus Community Schools went out of formula during the 1990-91 school year that the TIFA has effectively diverted funds approved by voters for school operating purposes to the TIFA's general municipal projects."

The summary continued, "The (recent) $30 million plus amendment to the TIFA II projects was (in the judgment of the school board) too detrimental to the future educational opportunities of the students of the school district."

And despite recent actions by the Michigan legislators regarding tax reform, the summary states, "The Michigan statutes allow only a limited time period to file a complaint of this nature."

School board attorney Anthony Heckemeyer said, "Rather than being precluded from filing at a later date, the school board decided to proceed with the complaint."

The issues raised in the suit are:

- The Michigan Constitution requires a vote of the qualified electors to alter tax dollars voted for a certain purpose...hence the state law is being effectively violated.

- The state constitution "requires that taxation of real and personal property be uniformly assessed...and when tax dollars are diverted to finance TIFA projects, there is instead a lack of uniformity."

- The state of Michigan reimburses in-formula school districts for monies paid over to TIFA projects, but does not reimburse out-of-formula school districts such as Romulus.

- School codes "forbid a school district from using funds raised by tax for one

More arrests due in credit card scam

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Additional arrests in the $100,000 credit card scam uncovered by agents of the special services unit of the Romulus Police Department earlier this year are expected within the next few weeks.

Recently, two Westland men and a Plymouth Township man and his mother were apprehended by Romulus Police and federal Secret Service agents in connection with the credit card fraud case that included the theft of cash, racing car parts and exercise equipment.

The stolen credit card numbers also were used to get cash advances from a Romulus topless bar known as the "Play House" on Middlebelt Road, police said. Federal charges are pending against at least one of the bar employees.

Arraigned last Wednesday in Federal Court of Detroit on credit card fraud charges were Bernard Joseph Pavone Jr., 28, Plymouth Township and his mother, Gloria Theresa Tactac, 56, also of Plymouth Township.

Pavone was freed on $20,000 cash bond and his mother on $10,000 cash bond. A pre-trial conference is slated for the pair on Aug. 10 in Federal Court.

It is charged that Tactac was illegally obtaining credit card receipts from her employer (an area hairdressing chain). The numbers from those receipts then were used for the five-state credit card scam. The states where the scams were reported were California, North Carolina, Arkansas, Florida and Ohio.

Romulus Police Lt. David Early, head of the special services bureau, revealed that earlier, Philip Andrew Stenning, 34, of Westland, had been arrested by Romulus police on a charge of larceny under $100.

Candidate seeks to make airport nearness a plus

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

This is the second of three articles on current challengers that will face off against City Council incumbents this fall. Following those articles will be stories on the incumbents seeking office and the non-contested races this November.

Michael A. Prybyla, one of three challengers seeking election to the City Council this fall, hopes to add his environmental health talents to the knowledge pool of the council members.

Prybyla, 51, currently is a departmental manager in the Wayne County Health Department. He feels he can help as the city plans its future recycling, landfill and medical waste disposal efforts.

He also hopes to add his management skills and knowledge of various governmental options and grants that are not currently being sought or used.

Prybyla is willing to continue to explore casino options for Romulus, but feels if the gambling sites are installed in the city, they must be strictly controlled.

He also is anxious to see a great deal of new single-family housing developed in Romulus, as a prelude to new and expanded industry.

"Obviously Detroit Metro Airport is one of the major keys to our growth and we have to learn to turn that issue into a positive," he stated.

But since this is his first venture into the political field, Prybyla realizes that he is the "new kid on the block," and plans to do a door-to-door campaign to learn what Romulus residents want in future growth.

While admitting that he has not attended many past council meetings, Prybyla said he will begin appearing at those sessions this September to gain additional experience at that level.

During his years on the Planning Commission, Prybyla feels his greatest impact was in the area of toughening restrictions on trucking dispatch areas.

"Before we got involved some trucks were parking their vehicles alongside buildings or behind buildings and creating many problems for the city and its residents," he said.

"We also need to attract many airport related businesses to relocate here," Prybyla said.

A native of Detroit, he has resided in Romulus for over 26 years. He served on the Planning Commission from 1976 to 1983.

His educational training includes a bachelor of science degree in environmental health from Ferris State University in Grand Rapids.

He later earned a masters degree in environmental health administration from the University of Michigan.

As a department director with the County Health Department, Prybyla oversees public swimming pools, food manager certificates, food manager operations, vending machine operations, mobile home parks and training of staff employees.

Local sailor wins poetry prize

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
ANP Staff Writer

Midshipman first class James D. Hicks, son of James W. Hicks of Westland, has been awarded the 1993 A. Stuart Pitt Memorial Poetry Prize from the U.S. Naval Academy.

Hicks, 24, is a 1986 magna cum laude graduate of Wayne Memorial High School who after attending the honors program at Michigan State University for two years, decided to enter the United States Naval Academy.

Hicks started at the academy, located in Annapolis, Maryland, in 1989 and is currently a senior scheduled to graduate in May 1994 with a bachelor of science degree in English. Hicks will have the choice of becoming a commissioned officer in the Marines or Navy upon graduation.

"Persons appointed to the academy are in the top 10 percent of their high school class and participate in athletic and extracurricular activities," U.S. Navy Public Affairs Specialist Debbie Carroll said.

These students, Carroll said, are appointed by congressmen or senators in their area.

The Pitt Memorial Poetry Competition is conducted through the Academy of American Poets, which sponsors individual poetry contests at colleges across the nation. Pitt Competition prizes are awarded in memory of Professor A. Stuart Pitt, the first chairman of the Naval Academy English Department and a member of the faculty for 37 years.

Hicks' winning poem, "Little Alex," was selected from 85 poems submitted, praising his accurate word choice and haunting imagery. "Little Alex" is a disturbing journey into a woman's childhood.

Hicks has been competing in the poetry competition for the past three years. He won first place two years ago as a freshman (plebe) and earned honorable mention last year taking second and third place.

Hicks' mother, Karen Hicks, said her son has always enjoyed writing poetry in his free time. She said she's proud of her son and enjoys reading his poetry.

"A lot of people don't have a chance to see their child's thoughts on paper. Through poetry you can see another side of your child," Hicks said.

The Pitt Prize was awarded to Hicks in a ceremony at the academy in May. Rear Admiral Thomas Lynch, superintendent of the Naval Academy, presented the prize to Hicks with Professor Pitt's wife, Margaret Pitt and his daughter, Victoria Pitt Allan.

Attempted robbery foiled

With the assistance of Westland police and Wayne County sheriffs, Wayne officers were able to capture two suspects allegedly attempting to rob the Wayne Bowling establishment on Michigan Avenue 1:46 a.m. Aug. 2.

"Officers were dispatched to the area on report of an alarm going off," Wayne police Chief John Colligan said. "Our officers saw two suspects inside the building. We called for assistance which included Westland police and Wayne County sheriffs."

Police surrounded the building and demanded the suspects surrender.

"As Wayne officer Michael Ciucci was observing the area from the roof, he saw the suspects attempting to escape out the back of the building into the woods north of the building," Colligan said. "We notified the other officers and were able to apprehend the suspects on foot without incident."

Detroit residents Robert J. Garza, 23, and Harold D. Combs, 21, were both arrested and charged with breaking and entering a building with intent to commit a larceny.

The two suspects were arraigned Aug. 3 before 29th District Court Judge Carolyn Archbold, and a $1,000 bond or 10 percent was set. A not-guilty plea was entered on their behalf, according to Colligan.

Both defendants posted bond, according to court officials. An Aug. 9 examination has been scheduled for Garza and Combs before Archbold.

ROMULUS NEWS DIGEST

Bandits rob ice cream bar

A pair of hooded bandits held up and robbed the Frosty Boy on Van Born Road late Saturday afternoon of less than $100.

Police report the bandits burst into the ice cream facility shortly after 4 p.m. and one of the gunmen placed his sawed off shotgun against the head of a 15-year-old worker and demanded "give me all your money."

He forced the youth to surrender also all the money he had in his pants pockets. His armed partner also ordered a second employee to empty the register. The young workers then were told to sprawl on the floor.

"Stay down, don't get up or call the police," they were ordered.

After the bandits fled, one of the workers called Romulus police.

The bandits were described as being two black males, both wearing black ski masks, black gloves and black jumpsuits. Each carried a sawed-off shotgun, police said.

One bandit was described as being about 5 feet 6 inches, while his partner was listed as 6 feet 1 inch tall.

Smoking outlawed on school property

Beginning Sept. 1 no smoking will be permitted on Romulus Community School property, Dr. Terrel M. LeCesne, Assistant Superintendent of Schools for Administrative Services, revealed Tuesday.

The school board voted Monday night to amend its policies to prohibit the use of all tobacco products (both smoking and chewing types) on school property during regular scheduled school hours.

The change blocks use of tobacco by either students or staff members, LeCesne explained.

A new state law enacting the smoke-free status was approved this summer by the Michigan legislature and was signed into law by Gov. John Engler.

Chamber golf outing slated

The annual Romulus Chamber of Commerce golf outing is slated for Thursday Aug. 26 at Willow-Metro Park Golf Course.

The tournament will begin with an 8:30 a.m. shotgun start with four-person team scrambles.

Refreshments and a pig roast will be offered on the course and a steak dinner will be conducted later at the Romulus Progressive Club.

Teams with professional golfers will not be eligible for cash prizes.

The cost of the day's outing will be $80 and that will include the use of golf carts.

For further information contact the chamber at 326-4290 between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

purpose for another purpose, unless the district's voters approve the change. Romulus voters have not approved that change.

- Until the legislature expressly confers authority upon a school board to levy taxes for a TIFA, tax collectors cannot divert property taxes levied for school operating purposes to another purpose.

- The TIFA statute requires that a TIFA establishes a decline in property values in the amended Development Area II, before creating a development area.

"The school board believes that there has not been a decline in the Development Area, as that term is intended in the statute.

"In any event, the city and its TIFA did not have sufficient information to determine whether there was a decline," the summary concludes.

Olympics aided Romulus image

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

An intensely proud Romulus Senior Citizen Center Director Marilyn Masters accepted the accolades for the city of Romulus from her out-of-town peers at the conclusion of last week's Eighth Annual Downriver Senior Olympics.

Masters said that many of the visiting senior citizens expressed great admiration for the new Romulus School District gym facility (where the opening ceremonies were presented) and the ballroom at the Holiday Inn Crowne Plaza, where the awards banquet was offered on the final day.

"It took nine months of hard work, but I'm so glad we did it. When I told the more than 360 persons at the luncheon we're proud you now have seen the other side of the (Detroit Metro) airport, they burst into spontaneous applause."

Masters cited Art McPharlin, administrative assistant to Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Bedell, "for the tremendous teamwork he offered to make sure various school facilities were ready for the seniors, despite the heavy remodeling efforts currently going on at the high school."

She said "official gold medals" also were awarded later to Mayor Beverly McAnally, Recreation Department Director Duwayne Martin and Recreation Coordinator Rick Doane.

Masters said the whole city joined the team to make sure the seniors "had the best possible image of Romulus."

Policemen, firefighters, Department of Public Works officials, hotel managers and local business owners couldn't have been more supportive.

More than 500 senior citizens from Romulus, Riverview, Trenton, Wyandotte, Allen Park, Grosse Ile, Lincoln Park, Taylor, Southgate and Woodhaven took part in the festivities that included baking contest, card tournaments and various sporting events.

Council

On a personal basis, Prybyla and his wife, Midge, have a son, Lee, 25, and a daughter, Heather, 23.

He has been a member of the Romulus Rotary Club since 1981 and has held most of the officers' positions including president in 1987-88.

He also has been active with the Michigan Environmental Health Association since 1966, the Aquinas School Board from 1984-88 and the local Little League and Romulus Flyers Football activities.

He also formerly served as president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees union, Local 25.

His wife served as one of the first members of the Downtown Development Authority and the Romulus Beautification Committee.

Having already received a verbal endorsement from Mayor Beverly McAnally, Prybyla said he will seek support from other political and business leaders.

Scam

He pleaded guilty to the charge on May 5 in 35th District Court in Northville. His sentencing has been delayed.

A second Westland resident, a 27-year-old man, also had been apprehended on Feb. 18, 1993 by Romulus Police and is now facing federal fraud charges.

Early said the investigation began in February after Romulus police received a complaint from an Ohio high-performance auto parts supplier, who said they had shipped large quantities of auto goods to a Romulus address and later found the goods had been ordered by telephone by someone using stolen credit card numbers.

Local police learned deliveries had been made to unknown tenants of Pavone in Romulus, Early said. Other deliveries had been shipped to vacant houses in Northville Township, Dearborn Heights and other locations.

Surveillance led Romulus police officers to a delivery of merchandise to Stenning at a vacant condominium in Northville Township.

Early said Stenning then delivered the stolen goods to the indicted man in Westland.

Romulus and other local police then exercised search warrants at the homes of the unnamed Westland man, Stenning and Pavone on Feb. 18.

The searches uncovered more than $50,000 worth of stolen car parts and related equipment at the Westland man's residence.

In addition, Early said, approximately 200 partial credit card receipts were discovered. Other records were found at Pavone's home in Plymouth Township.

Romulus police then asked for assistance from the U.S. Secret Service and a second search warrant was executed on March 18 at the Pavone home. Those participating in the search were Romulus police and agents of the Secret Service, Internal Revenue Service, U.S. Postal Service and the Plymouth Police.

Early said that shipments of large amounts of goods were halted after distributors contacted his office of Secret Service.

The federal indictment charges Pavone and his mother were operating the reported credit card scam since February 1992.

Special classes stay at college

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

A request to switch the successful "alternative sentencing" program currently being utilized by area district courts to the local high school was rejected Monday night by the Romulus school board members.

The program involves more than 160 students (ranging in age from 17 and 63) is currently housed at the Western Wayne Campus of the Wayne County Community College in Van Buren Township.

The school board members voted to continue the program at WCCC as long as possible.

William Murphy, adult and vocational education director of the school district, had written a letter to the board members asking for the switch of locations. He said the switch would have a positive effect on the program cost factors, the ease of supervision and the need for an assured place to house the on-going program.

Stating the program "has greatly exceeded our expectations," Murphy wrote, past sessions have included seminars dealing with domestic violence, alcohol abuse, community college recruiting and admissions, vocational training and bereavement and separation.

The program was started with the help of 34th District Court Judge Felix Rogalle and has since grown to include individuals appearing in 22nd District Court in Inkster, 23rd District Court in Taylor and 29th District Court in Wayne.

Diane Kocenda, supervisor and counselor of the program, said classes are scheduled from 6 to 10 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays and that 60 students have already obtained their GED certificates via the study program.

In addition others have learned job skills to obtain higher paying jobs, she said.

Involvement begins when a judge or probation officer contacts her on behalf of a possible student.

That student then attends an initiation program at which time they are made aware of the rules and regulations of the program and undergo an initial assessment by the school.

They are then enrolled in the GED program taught by Rosemary Szymofelnik or a job skills effort headed by Rose Cuschieri. The class selection is made depending on the students reading skill levels and other criteria.

They also attend a pair of two-hour sessions regarding self-awareness, Kocenda said.

"The sessions end for students with a final evaluation and we receive many positive comments from the participants," Kocenda said.

"They come here with many angry emotions initially," Kocenda said, "but when they finish they have bonded so strongly with each other that they often hate to leave the program. Less than 1-percent are still negative at the end of their time here."

Rogalle has been very instrumental in the success of the program, she said, and has accepted requests from the students to speak before them on occasion.

Board members demand information

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
ANP Staff Writer

Several Wayne-Westland school board members expressed disapproval Monday night with the level of information provided to them regarding an alternative education program presently being developed by district administrators.

An administration presentation regarding the new Multi-Venture Program (MVP) for alternative education students was postponed until Aug. 16, so board members could have the opportunity to study the program.

The program provides for students from ninth through 12th grade to complete the academic portion of the alternative education program in the high schools, while giving the students the opportunity to participate in the vocational education program, Assistant Superintendent of General Administration Greg Baracy said.

"We want to assure students succeed and have all available options."

Some board members expressed surprise that the measure was not brought before them in advance.

"I'm shocked to see a program is in place and the board hasn't taken any action," board Vice president Mathew McCusker said.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Larry Thomas said the administration took the direction of the board members to move the alternative education program back to the high schools when the budget cuts were taking place.

"By moving the Cherry Hill program back to the high schools, we saved $350,000," Thomas said.

Thomas said the administration planned on making a presentation to the board when the program was fully developed.

"I was asked to identify the deficiencies in the program. It didn't take a brain surgeon to identify a program that is horrible," Thomas said.

Board members did not disagree with the new program, but rather were concerned about not having an opportunity to study the MVP program prior to implementation.

"The issue is not the fact that we agreed to change the program. We expect to see the development of the new plan," Trustee Leonard Posey said.

"I do not believe that the board gave the administration carte blanche approval to do anything it wants in the alternative education program," McCusker said.

Some board members were questioned whether the program would hamper or help students having educational difficulties in the general education setting. Board members were also concerned with the program suggestion that ninth graders in the program be permitted to attend vocational education classes to earn more credits.

Nathan Everden, a former Cherry Hill alternative education student, said he would like to see the drug and alcohol problems of students addressed.

A new alternative education attendance program was named after Everden who missed several days of school in the alternative education program, but held a 3.8 grade point average while completing his General Education Degree at John Glenn High School.

Orientation for the new program will take place this Thursday and the board members have scheduled a study session on the issue for 7 p.m. Aug. 16.

Romulus woman prepares entries for annual Wayne County Fair

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

As the mother of a rabbit-raising 4-H club member, Garnet Zilka of Romulus was introduced to the Wayne County Fair.

Now years later, Zilka finds contentment in not only keeping herself involved with various craft and photography competitions, but in encouraging members of her family and others to submit fair entries.

As the Wayne County Fair opens Tuesday, Zilka is preparing to enter color photos of scenery, a large water color of a Tennessee style water mill and some of her personally written poems done in the form of calligraphy.

Her daughter, Sharon Gasiorek of Carleton, also will be submitting various flowers and crafts.

Sharon Gasiorek, left, and her parents, Leonard and Garnet Zilka of Romulus, have made the Wayne County Fair a real family affair, entering photography and crafts in the various competitions each year. ANP photo by DiVizio/chief photographer

Even her grandson, Travis Hadyniak, 12, will be entering a fort he erected from popsicle sticks as well as numerous other car and airplane models.

Zilka, a member of the 1952 graduation class of Romulus Senior High School, even served as supervisor of the fair Adult Building for five years. "It felt like a full time job overseeing entries in the various arts and crafts fields, as well as various farm products."

Now free of that heavy responsibility, Zilka gains new thrills by talking senior citizens and local youths into submitting fair entries.

Zilka currently serves as activities director at Restoration Towers of Redford and uses that opportunity to inspire various senior citizens to enter their crafts in competitions such as the Wayne County Fair.

"We have many seniors who will be entering Afghans, baking goodies, adult clothing and various other crafts," she explained. "One of the senior men in our housing service will also be entering a hand-made ceramic village. It's just exciting to watch their enthusiasm grow."

Opinion

Only half right

It was a damned if we do, damned if we don't situation. And, all things considered, it appears that, up to a point, the actions taken by a supervisor and department manager at the Westland Department of Public Service were in the best interests of the city. Up to a point.

Faced with a worker who claimed that job stress, newly mandated work rules and the political climate were causing him to contemplate a re-enactment of the recent Dearborn Post Office shootings, a DPS supervisor did what he thought best and sought medical help for the man at a local clinic. He then notified the department manager—also the correct and proper action to take.

What if he hadn't acted? What if the distraught worker had made good his implied threats and come back to the job armed and dangerous? What if there had been injury to fellow workers or even a life-threatening situation?

This supervisor and department head did the right thing and made a good management decision in finding professional help for this man. And, when receiving a medical opinion that a professional mental health evaluation would be necessary, the supervisor took this employee to a hospital which provides psychiatric care. There, the worker was interviewed and evaluated by a doctor and summarily committed for an involuntary three-day examination.

That's when it began to fall to pieces. The supervisor who transported the worker to the hospital left for his previously scheduled and long-planned vacation—the department manager was understandably distraught, having been named, we are told, as one of the specific targets of the employee's displeasure. The hospital followed standard operating procedures, or so we are told.

But, at their Westland home, the man's family began to wonder just where he might have gone when he failed to appear at home at the usual time. They kept wondering—and worrying—and were extraordinarily disturbed by the failure of anyone from the city to notify them of their loved one's whereabouts.

They say no one phoned them or notified them of the man's commitment for the entire weekend. They are, understandably, now the distressed and distraught parties.

When informed of the situation, members of the Westland City Council could offer little, if any, solace to the employee's angry, weeping wife who demanded the immediate firing of both the supervisor and department manager. She wanted an explanation—and her attorney will also be demanding one in court we're told.

And, surprised as many of the members of the Westland City Council were, they reacted admirably in vowing an investigation into the incident—as did the mayor.

And when the facts were revealed, it became clear that the actions taken may have been with good reason and may even have saved lives—but the actions not taken may prove to be expensive, indeed.

An elegant evening

We were impressed.

We admit it. The garden party hosted by the Belleville Area Council for the Arts was a genuine evening of elegance and grace. The entire evening was marked with a feeling of sophistication and culture too often missing in the hectic lives led by nearly all these days.

The entire committee and board of directors is to be applauded for this wonderful evening—but special thanks and appreciation must go to Chesley Odom who opened his offices located on Belleville Lake for the evening of charming and gracious entertainment.

This event was truly a tribute to Belleville as a community and to those who sponsored such a genteel undertaking. It was a brief respite from the hectic world of today and an all-too-brief brush with elegance and dignity.

Only a man of Mr. Odom's obvious sophistication and experience could serve pizza with the savoir faire usually reserved for caviar-Beluga, of course, and leave guests believing they had enjoyed no less a treat.

Mr. Odom is truly a gentleman in every sense of the word as is evidenced by his commitment to his community, to his family and to a lifestyle we should all attempt, in whatever small manner possible, to emulate.

Treasurer supports new school plan

To the editor:

As State Treasurer, I am responsible for maintaining the integrity and profitability of the State's pension systems. We currently have very well funded systems for state, public school, judicial, and state police employees and retirees.

Recently, the legislature has debated a proposal to change the manner in which we provide retirement benefits to NEW state and public school employees. This is an important policy issue which I believe is in the best interest of every taxpayer in the state.

Our current retirement plan provides very generous benefits to long-term state and public school employees. The state's plan is, in many respects, more generous than even the "Big Three". Our State Constitution protects current public employee benefits from being altered in any way.

While the state's pension investments have been doing very well over the past 10 years, Michigan residents should understand that they, as taxpayers, are ultimately responsible for public pensions.

Under a new defined contribution system of pension benefits, new state and public school employees would have 5 percent of their gross annual income placed into an account from which a variety of investment options would be available. All new employees would be provided adequate information about all investment options and how to structure their account to best suit their needs.

By moving to this system the employee, not the taxpayer, then becomes responsible for his or her own retirement.

With a defined contribution program, the State will be providing a pension plan that is more equitably distributed among all employees. It is also portable and provides these public employees with a benefit linked to their position and years of service. This, I believe, represents good public policy.

Without question, I believe the taxpayers of Michigan will benefit from a defined contribution program for new state and public school employees. First, the cost risks would be shifted from the taxpayer to the recipient. Second, these public employees would have a more equitable and fair pension benefit that would apply to all new employees, not just those who work into the next century.

Statistical data now available

To the editor:

I want to call your attention to an important publication recently released by the Heritage Foundation, The Index of Leading Cultural Indicators. Written by William Bennett, the Index is a comprehensive statistical portrait of behavioral trends over the last 30 years.

It shows, for example, that while population has increased 41 percent since 1960, violent crime has increased 560 percent; illegitimate births have increased more than 400 percent; divorce rates have quadrupled; the percentage of children living in single-parent homes has tripled, and the teenage suicide rate has increased more than 200 percent.

As a member of The Heritage Foundation, I am eager to see the facts in this document given wide publicity. Only if we admit we are in a crisis of values can we begin to reverse our cultural decline.

You may already have received a copy of the Index. If so, I urge you to keep it on hand and use it as a resource. If you haven't yet seen it, you can obtain a copy by calling The Heritage Foundation Publication Office at 202-546-4400.

Group seeks donations

To the editor:

Please allow us to introduce ourselves to you as the Romulus Athletic Club. The Romulus Athletic Club is a non-profit organization that assists children ages 8 through 13 in participating in organized football and cheerleading. Through your contributions, we will be able to provide a solid football program for our children.

Due to the fact that at this time, the City of Romulus does not grant money to our youth program, we are looking for local businesses to help support our football program.

Please help support the youth in our area with your contribution. As we are a non-profit organization any donations can be used as a tax deduction.

Tax reform urged

To the editor:

There is only one tax proposal which will benefit all Michigan citizens, regardless of age, income, property or business holdings; one which will result in no loss of deductions or tax credits, will reduce the size and cost of government and eliminate many court cases, while increasing revenue with the resulting growth in business activity.

It's a "radical" approach practiced by such states as Delaware, New Hampshire, and several others: ABOLISH THE STATE SALES AND USE TAX along with the costly reciprocal agreements with neighboring states. Implementation in the month of February would minimize the impact of buyer "hold-out".

If our legislature truly wished to reduce taxes for everyone without complicating other issues, here's an opportunity to prove it. Otherwise it's time for the petitions to get rolling again.

Court custody decision blasted

To the editor:

Why did the courts rule in the Schmidts' favor and against Jessica and the Deboers?

Because most Federal and State Law violates the law of identity. A is A, man's nature. Man's best interests are his inalienable rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

A child who is freely given to another person to raise and nurture and who is, in fact, being incontrovertibly should not have its and its new guardian's best interests violated by a government charged by the citizens of this country in their Declaration of Independence to protect those best interests of all individuals by upholding objective reality and reason—the original intent of the foundation of our Constitution and our country's political and judicial system.

Birth parents are the guardians originally charged by nature with the responsibility of caring for a child's best interests but if they cede that responsibility through their own actions another person can become the new guardian. It then becomes that person's responsibility as long as they live up to that responsibility.

Time is a part of an individual's life. It is what makes bonding between individuals possible. It allows a person to learn, how they learn it, from who they learn it. It all takes time; this is what makes up the memories and future stolen from Jessica and the Deboers by a bungling court system working with a non-objective jurisprudence.

We all know from perceptual evidence that Jessica was happy living and learning with the Deboers. There is nobody that knows how Jessica will handle the trauma she will have to endure needlessly because of the decision by the Supreme Court.

Justice for all individual citizens is what the judicial branch of government has been charged with to protect. They have in fact failed Jessica's and the Deboers' best interests. We have just taken another step back toward the Dark Ages.

Individual rights needed to govern

To the editor:

In the Balkans or any other country, physical force used in any form, from taxes to bullets and bombs, in any attempt to control man's life will always fail because it violates part of man's nature—his desire for his unalienable right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Only Balkan leaders who understand and implement the concept of individual rights using a philosophy based 100 percent on objective reality and reason will have a chance to solve the Balkan's problems. President Clinton can help only by using the same philosophy to guide our own country.

Fledgling thespian troupe to perform in first play

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Take a few first-time performers, mix in a couple of experienced actors, add some enthusiasm plus hours of rehearsal and the combination becomes the cast of Bedside Manners, the first offering of the Belleville Area Community Players (BACP). Founded by Sherry Maironis last year, the BACP hopes to fill a live theater void in the area with a series of low-priced, family-audience productions.

"We're rating our plays in the same manner as films are rated so that parents will be aware of its suitability for children," said Maironis, noting that the Derek Benfield comedy is rated "PG."

The community theater company is an offshoot of a drama project that Maironis conducted for a Schoolcraft College special studies program, and which she hopes will evolve into a successful, ongoing series of plays.

"Their enthusiasm and dedication more than make up for their lack of experience," Maironis said of the cast. "We are proud of our cast and crew. It is our first production and the combination is dynamite. We hope to have the support of everyone in the area."

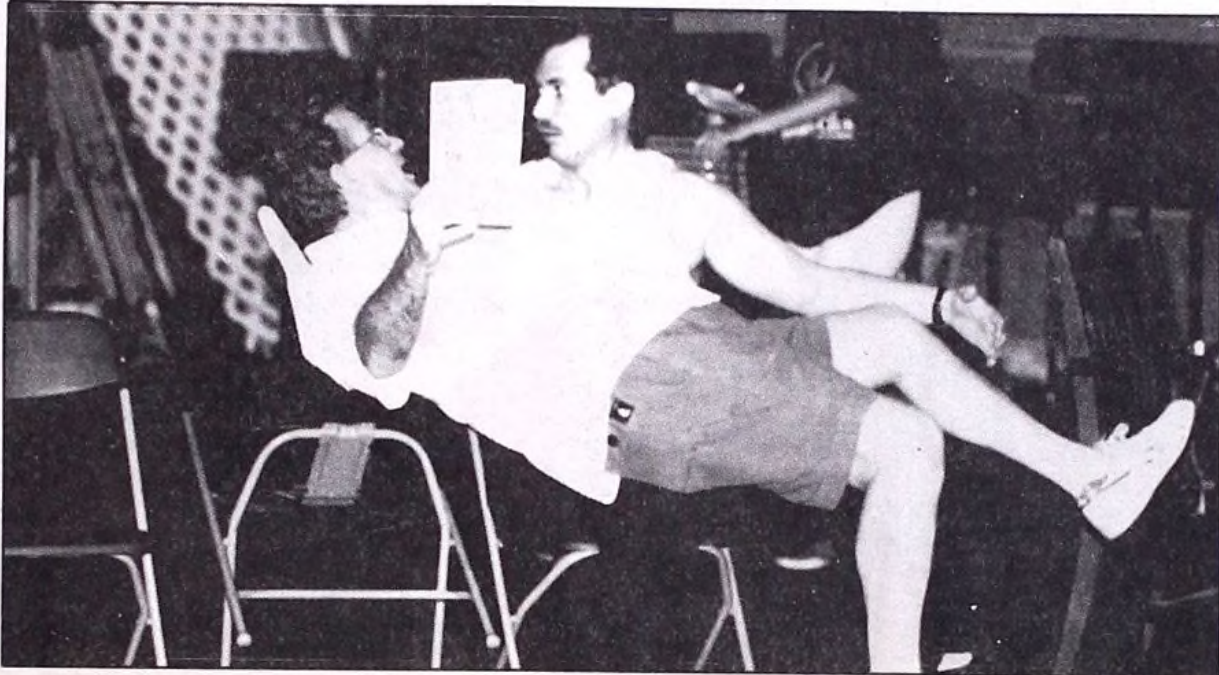

The cast includes John Hobert of Westland as Ferris, the innkeeper of a modest hotel, and Leah Murray of Belleville, a self-assured, sophisticated woman. Charles Capps of Belleville portrays Roger, a married man on a weekend getaway, and David Durham of Garden City plays Geoff, a weekend visitor to the hotel. Rounding out the cast is as clumsy, meek Helen is Jody Bjarro of Belleville.

The play will be staged at 8 p.m. Aug. 20 and 21 and at 3 p.m. Aug. 22 at the Belleville High School auditorium, 501 West Columbia Ave., Belleville.

Tickets are $5 per person, and a group rate of $3 may be obtained by groups of 15 or more. Reservations and information are available by calling Maironis at 425-4348 weekdays from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Mutt march planned

Area residents and their best friends will be taking a step toward making the world a kinder, gentler place for animals Sept. 18 at the annual Michigan Humane Society Mutt March '93.

The fund raiser, planned this year from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. will be at the Nankin Mills Station located in Edward Hines Park in Westland. The event is dedicated to the memory of Laura Lee Greer, organizers hope the event will benefit the thousands of homeless and injured animals sheltered by the Michigan Humane Society each year.

Individuals of all ages are welcome to participate in the 5-mile march, a spokesman said. There is a special 1-mile stroll for those who consider the longer walk too serious a challenge for themselves or their pets. Four-legged friends are invited, the spokesman said, but it is necessary that all animals be in good physical condition and have been vaccinated.

Marchers are encouraged to ask friends and family members to pledge an amount per mile walked. To make efforts for the animals worthwhile, a minimum pledge of $1 per mile is recommended, officials said. Official t-shirts will be awarded to all marchers who collect more than $100 in pledges.

Registration forms for the 1993 Fall Mutt March are available at the Michigan Humane Society West Shelter, 37255 Marquette Road in Westland. Information is available at 721-7300.

Golf thriller Kent rallies to tie, claims title, in sudden death playoff

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

In a tournament that almost wasn't, defending champ Darrin Kent made sure that the 34th annual City Championship Golf Invitational went down as unforgettable.

The 21-year-old Westland golfer birdied the 18th hole on Sunday to catch first-round leader Bob Wanniger at the wire to finish with identical 152s for 36 holes, forcing a "sudden death" playoff.

Kent, playing for the city of Westland, and Wanniger, representing Canton Township, squared off in the extra session that went to the fourth hole where Kent surfaced with his second consecutive City Championship title.

A year ago, Kent won his inaugural tourney title with an impressive 148.

"This definitely was one of, if not the most exciting, tournament in the 34-year history of the tournament," said Bill Hawley, who has served as tournament manager for at least 25 of the 34 summer classics. "I am quite certain that we have never had a sudden-death playoff to decide the championship."

"Kent's outstanding play in the stretch, especially that birdie on the 18th put him back in the race. Most of us had conceded the tournament to Morton."

Hawley was referring to Mark Morton, the perennial Wayne champ who found his Waterloo at the 18th where he carded an "11" which knocked him out of contention.

Wanniger led the field of approximately 60 golfers for the first 18 holes during a qualifying round on Saturday that was interrupted by a 45-minute delay caused by rain. The first-round leader toured the front nine with a 37, then polished off the back nine with a 36 for a tournament-leading, one-stroke-over-par 73.

Sitting a stroke back were Morton and newcomer Jack Wright, who said he played "his best round of golf that day."

Wright, playing for the city of Westland title, also ran into a web of woes that left him with a second-round 89 and a 163 total for the two-day tournament. He fell into the middle of the pack.

Did the unexpected Saturday rains create any problems?

Yes and No, depending on who you speak to. "It was hard to hold on to your club," said Frank Bonner. "That rain hurt me."

Steve Bullock, an Inkster attorney, said that wet stuff didn't harm his game.

"In fact, if you look at my scorecard, I did better in the rain."

Bullock, who failed to make the championship flight in the city of Wayne, came back to win a first-flight third place trophy after finishing with a 179.

Morton, a 27-year-old marketing-communications specialist, also felt that the rains had little to do with his game. He took a 36 on the front nine and a 38 on the back for his 74.

But it was Kent that ruled the tournament with his excellent chipping and putting the second day and in the playoff.

Playing against Kevin Ryan, who has won six City Championship titles during the past 15 years, Wes Blevins and Craig Klineczak in the first round, the young golfer got off to a fast start, with a pair of birdies on the first two holes, before he got into trouble. He took a six on the 438-yard third-hole then settled down to play par most of the rest of the way.

Ryan's bid for his seventh title fell apart on the back nine. After carving out a 36 for the first nine, his putter apparently failed him and finished with an "8" for the 10th hole.

The veteran golfer had no excuses and walked off the field after salvaging a 78, four strokes off the leader's pace.

For the first-time in its 34-year-history the tournament was in jeopardy of being "called off".

A late rush of entries last Tuesday and a rash of last-minute phone calls to Hawley kept the "tradition" alive.

"I don't know what the problem was this year," said Hawley. "Obviously a lot of the golfers waited to the last minute to play. These things unfortunately will happen. However, I know most of these players want to keep the tradition alive."

Hawley said to avoid last-minute decisions he "has asked and the course management agreed to give us dates for the 1994 tournament."

The 35th annual tournament will be staged on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 6-7 at Fellows Creek. Please circle those dates.

The tournament is cosponsored by the Parks and Recreation Departments of Wayne, Westland, Inkster, and Canton Township and The Associated Newspapers. The top five players from each of the cities (and township) are eligible to compete for their cities in the Michigan Parks and Recreation state championships, which will be conducted later this year.

18th-hole decides it in Wayne

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Charles Cross and Mark Morton will probably never forget the 18th hole at Fellows Creek.

It was there, at that final hole, that Morton blew his chances to win the 34th annual City Championship Golf Tournament and the double crown of the city of Wayne title.

Morton's sudden and unexpected collapse on the 18th of the second round of competition lifted Charles Cross into the driver's seat in the race for the Wayne title.

Cross, an employee at Fellows Creek Golf Course, played steady golf for the 36-holes and emerged with a 159 total to capture the Wayne title. With it also went the Patrolman Leonard J. Anderson Memorial Trophy.

The Anderson trophy is awarded to the top finisher in the Wayne championship flight. It is presented by the Wayne Police Officers' Association in memory of Anderson, the first and only Wayne police officer to be slain in the line of duty. He died May 25, 1974.

Morton, who has previously

Newcomer to the City Championship golf classic Charles Cross made the putts when they counted and build momentum in the stretch to catch and overcome perennial contender Mark Morton to win the Wayne city title. won city titles and also the Anderson Trophy, coasted to a 74 the first day and was actually one-stroke off the leader's pace, while Cross, making his debut in the city championships, carded an 82 in the opening round and was overlooked by the field.

Cross came back the second day eager for the hunt. With six pars on the front nine, he went on to play steady golf and finished with a 42 to keep in contention. However, he still had to look up at Morton who looked unbeatable until the 18th.

At the 18th, Morton's dream of his third city title turned into a nightmare as it took the former champ 11 strokes to finish the hole. His 161 total sandwiched him between the young Cross, who finished with 159 and Rick Brown, the son of former Wayne council member Michael Brown, who walked off with the third-place trophy with a 162.

Incidentally, Rick beat his dad, who made it into the championship flight and finished the tournament with a two-day total of 173.

"Both Cross and Morton can hit the long ball," said Bill Hawley, tournament manager. "I don't think any of us expected to see Morton end up the way he did."

"I guess that's what makes this game so interesting - you

Vardar captures national crown

A sterling soccer performance by the Vardar III club lifted the Michigan team to the national U-16 boys championship.

The nationals, staged in Phoenix last week, brought together the nation's best young kickers, and in the lineup of the 1993 national champs were Inkster athlete Brian Collier and Canton Township kickers Paul Dood, Doug Herriman, and Jeff Fliss.

"We are ecstatic over our team's performance at the nationals and the winning of the national title," said manager Gary Howard. "We're proud of these kids."

Dallas, 3-1. In the finals, Vardar eked out a thrilling 2-1 victory over the California Stars.

Vardar scored the first goal in the first half thanks to Jim Weber with Dan Brody getting the assist. Then California came back and tied it up in the second half.

Brandon Moggio booted in the tie-breaker and decisive goal that lifted the winners to the coveted U.S.A. crown. Moggio's goal came after an assist from Justin Marshall. And Alex Garn was the recipient of the MVP Goalie Award for Vardar.

Moggio walked off the field with the Most Valuable Player (MVP) award.

"These games are comparable to the 'Little League World Series,'" said Lupenec. "This victory was truly a team effort by all."

Members of the 1994 Vardar III team are: Jeff Babinski, Dan Brody, Brian can't predict what will happen."

In the chase for the Canton Township title, first-round winner Bob Wanniger, who lost the tournament title to Westland's Darrin Kent, won a five-stroke victory over Craig Klimeczak for the top spot in the township.

Wanniger had a 152 to Klimeczak's 157. Finishing third with a trophy was Ken Eck, who has competed in 18 successive City Championship tournaments. He had a 168.

In the meantime, Bob Seiberg put together rounds of 80-77 for 157 and the Open Division Championship. Eight-strokes back in second was Inkster firefighter Jack Drysdale while Doug Plant's 168 earned him the third place trophy.

Defending champ Darrin Kent, who retained his tournament title, was also crowned the city of Westland champ. Five strokes back with a 157 in the Westland Championship Flight was Greg Puglieski, and veteran golfer Dick Hodges was third (157) after losing a playoff to Puglieski.

The 1993 tournament apparently was not the year of the women golfer. Only three showed up and Virginia Sexton topped the slim field with a 218. Also competing in the division were Phyllis Coughenour and Darlene Hawley.

"I feel that more publicity earlier in the stage of the this tournament may bring out more women golfers," said Bill Hawley. "This tournament is designed for those who want to have fun while improving their game. I hope that we can get the message out earlier next year."

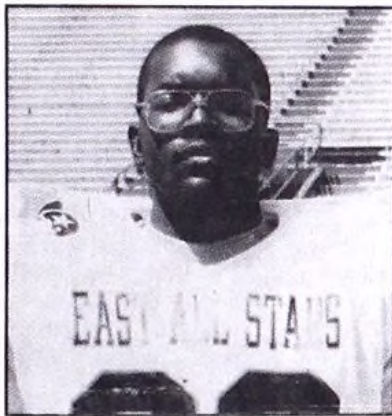

The 1994 tournament - the 35th - will be staged the weekend of Aug. 6-7 at Fellows Creek in Canton Township.

Barnett, who is the reigning

shot put champ in the state, is a 6-6, 245-pound tight end who played for the Tigers and helped the Tigers and coach Bob LaPointe to a winning season a year ago.

Calhoun, a dynamic ball-carrier who was coached by Chuck Howton at Wayne Memorial, is a 6-1, 195-pound tailback.

Bruce Calhoun

Both Barnett and Calhoun were also members of the 1992 Associated Newspapers' All-Area football squads and will be playing collegiate football this fall.

Schedules, please

If you don't have that proverbial program in hand this season, you may not know what conference your favorite high school will be competing.

Or who will coach the old high school team and, even if there will be a team this year.

The new prep season which is quickly closing in on all of us also brings with it a score of new names and stars. You'd need a vehicle to keep up with them.

And The Associated Newspapers, as it has over the years, will put you in the driver's seat, providing the answers to the pertinent local sports questions.

In the meantime, while Westland John Glenn High School and Wayne Memorial High School are asking their athletes to Play to Participate, we're urging athletic directors to drop off (or mail) their fall sports schedules.

And if there is a new varsity coach, we'd like their telephone number.

Please contact the ANP sports desk at 729-4000 if you have any questions.

Mom and daughter earn high marks

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

Like mother, like daughter. Their goals were the same. To attain a higher level of education in order to improve their work and future careers. These two former Wayne residents, however, never thought they would graduate together, especially since they are mother and daughter.

Dorothy, 50, and Laura, 30, Henning recently walked across the University of Phoenix graduation platform side by side.

"It was a terrific experience," Dorothy Henning said. "I had gone to school before for a number of years. I first went to a community college and got an associate degree. When I started with the City of Phoenix, working in the police department as a supervisor, I found out that they offer tuition for school, so I decided to take the opportunity," Henning said.

Henning earned a degree in management while her daughter achieved an undergraduate degree in business administration.

Henning is a 1960 Wayne Memorial High School graduate. Her daughter completed classes at Franklin Junior High School before moving to Phoenix with her parents.

"Laura is now working with the Dial Corp.," Henning said. "She is an account representative. She had also gone to another school before transferring to the University of Phoenix."

Because Laura Henning lives in north Phoenix, the two did not attend the same campus and were not in the same classes.

They did, however, proof-read one another's papers and worked together on the computer.

"It was wonderful to be able to help each other study because when one was stuck, the other helped out," Henning said. "We live about 30 miles apart, but we were able to work together."

"They worked very hard," Joseph said. "I'm very proud of both of them. They struggled through, but it was all worth it. I have four children, and all but one made it through college."

Could these two schoolmates be interested in a master's degree?

"I don't know about that for me, but I've been encouraging my daughter every now and then," Henning said.

Dorothy and Laura Henning recently earned their college degrees together.

Riding stable makes 'horse sense'

Finding a spot to horse around this summer is getting easier and much closer with the recent opening of the Brighton Recreation Area Riding Stable located in the heart of a vast state wilderness park.

Owners David and Susan Werkema purchased the riding stable in March after spending five years running a western clothing outlet in nearby Ingham County. Major grounds renovation, construction of a large riding arena, kid camps and the addition of a western retail shop have made perfect horse sense, veteran businessman and travel expert David Werkema said.

"It was kind of a natural transition," Werkema said during a recent break from daily chores. "Our family (including five youngsters ranging in age from 9-13) has always been interested in horses and, quite honestly, we're living a dream life—we spend time with our children and operate a resort business that we truly enjoy. Quality of life out here is great."

Stable facilities are nestled among nearly 5,000 acres of tree-lined trails and hills covering portions of Brighton, Howell and Pinckney. Some 20 miles of rustic trails, filled with wildlife and crisp air, plus a number of equestrian camp sites are available within 45 minutes to most southeastern Michigan residents.

Although most guests opt for 1- or 2-hour guided rides, Werkema said horse owners also have the option of bringing their own animals to the stables for leisure riding activities.

The recently built riding arena allows for added hours of horsin' around fun.

"We're bringing together various interests, including calf ropers and show horses, for enthusiasts to pursue any aspect of the horse industry."

Brighton Recreation Area Riding Stable is located at 6660 Chilson Road in Howell, or telephone (313) 227-4622 for additional details.

The Oriental Short Hairs were one of the favorite cats at the Mid-Michigan Cat Fanciers Show at Cobo Hall last weekend. Thousands of visitors sauntered around the area to find the cutest, largest and smallest felines. More than 400 cats were represented.

THE CAT'S MEOW FANCY FELINES DRAW ADMIRERS OF ALL AGES

The cat fanciers prowling through Cobo Hall Sunday for the 149th Mid-Michigan International Benefit show were as varied as the felines they admired.

Thousands of cat lovers were able to admire more than 400 felines at the show as cat owners prepared their favorite member of the family for the "top cat" competition.

Canton Township resident Jacqueline Winiger said the amount of preparation needed for the show depends primarily on the breed of cat.

Winiger entered her 5-month-old Siamese kittens, and she said all that was needed to prepare them for the big event was a bath.

"You have to make sure they have their shots, and I've put them on a special Science Diet," Winiger said. "For the show you also have to clean their ears and clip their nails."

Big fluffy Persians drew a lot of onlookers as well as the Coon Cats. Each breed requires their own individual type of beauty regimen, according to Dewitt resident Patty Hanley who was showcasing her Coon Cats.

"The Coon Cat is the largest household cat," Hanley said. "They require regular grooming. The largest female can weigh anywhere from 12 to 22 pounds with the male weighing between 16 to 18 pounds."

Coon Cats are very independent, according to Hanley. They have long hair and are considered domestic house cats.

Cats are slowly becoming "the" household pet. It's estimated that more than 63 million felines reside in more than 26 million households in the U.S. —an average of three cats per home.

Dr. Myrna Milani, veterinarian and author of The Body Language and Emotions of Cats offered cat owners advice at the show on cat care which included health, feeding, grooming, and behavioral problems.

"Today both spouses work, people live in apartments and smaller homes, and single-family households abound which are all factors conducive to cat ownership," Milani said. "Unlike dogs, cats don't need a lot of room or constant attention to thrive."

Milani said the subtle shift in American society has developed more cat lovers.

"People are more self-assured, more willing to explore things that are different," Milani said. "While people once admired predictable canines, they now celebrate the enigmatic feline."

"A cat appears to be an eccentric pet whose behavior is often unexplainable. But, that's not really true. Once a pet owner begins to better understand his or her cat, it will lead to greater compatibility."

A two-day judging took place of the 26 different breeds. Spectators were able to see cats of all shapes, sizes, and colors from around the world.

The exotic breeds included: Singapuras, Ocicats, Chartreux, Korats, Oriental Shorthairs, Cornish Rex, Japanese Bobtails, Maine Coons, Persians, Scottish Folds, Devon Rex and Tonkinese.

Two exotic wildcats, a Canadian Lynx and a Cerval, were on display throughout the show courtesy of the Columbus Zoo and Sheba Food for Cats.

The Mid-Michigan Cat Show is a Cat Fanciers Association (CFA) affiliate. The CFA is the largest and the oldest association of cat registries with more cats registered than any other organization.

Canton Township resident Jacqueline Winiger said the amount of preparation needed for the show depends primarily on the breed of cat.

Cat lovers can now find out which cat is a perfect match for them through the Sheba Selectacat breed selection computer. Participants at the Cobo Hall event last weekend were asked 10 questions about their lifestyle on a touch sensitive screen. The computer then displayed three breeds that would best suit that individual. Cat owners could also use the computer to find out more about their own felines.

Martial art blends tradition, innovations

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Choi Kwang Do blends the best of Korean tradition and American ingenuity, according to martial arts instructor Kathleen Sutherland.

This week, she and her husband, Bill, are opening the Choi Kwang Do school at 11820 Belleville Road in the Van Buren Plaza.

"We adhere to oriental tradition and our grand master is from Korean, but the punches and kicks have been created by American doctors of sports medicine to make it healthier and easier on the joints," said Sutherland.

"It's a back-to-basics approach to martial arts. We focus on self-defense and self-improvement and stay away from competition," Sutherland said. "When individuals learn

"I got involved and then the rest of my family got interested, too."

how to defend themselves, it spill over onto the best of their lives. They become more confident and they are able to concentrate better, not only in the training area but also in school."

Sutherland said Choi Kwang Do is suitable for people of all ages. She reported that there are black belts as young as 6.

"We promote it as a family activity," the martial arts instructor said. "Our family is involved in Choi Kwan Do. My oldest daughter, Nicole, 16, is a second-degree black belt and my youngest daughter, Laura, 13, is a first-degree black belt. My husband and I also are black belts, and we share responsibilities and work as a team in the teaching of Choi Kwang Do."

Sutherland said she first became interested in the martial arts when her husband encouraged her to take a community education-sponsored class.

"I got involved and then the rest of my family got interested, too," Sutherland said.

Choi Kwang Do is of Korean origin and derives many of its traditions, customs and terminology from Korean heritage. Aspects of the martial arts form are examples of traditional oriental philosophy: bowing; demonstration of respect for seniors and elders; loyalty to one's family, group or country, and emphasis on patience, self-discipline, courtesy and humility.

The customs, many dating back thousands of years, were originally designed to promote harmony, justice and social order. Interestingly enough, it is these same ancient customs that form the modern basis for promoting a safer and more productive learning environment for Choi Kwang Do training, the instructor said.

Tenets of Choi Kwang Do are courtesy, integrity, perseverance, self-control and an indomitable spirit. Founded some 35 years ago, it is reported to be the fastest growing martial art in the world.

The school is located in Van Buren Township, on Belleville Road, south of Interstate-94.

Registrations for classes are being taken at 697-1950.

New 1993 Corolla quietens down

Sleek and sophisticated outside, roomy and very quiet inside, Toyota engineers have added a standard driver's air-bag and a maze of new features in the 1993 Corolla.

The new interior, with seating for five (two large and three small), rides much quieter this year with flush body contours, reduced trunk, hood and door gaps and improved door mountings. Weather sealings and fitted foam rubber add to the convincing hush of a ride.

Engineers have further reduced noise with a reinforced joint between the engine and transmission, a lighter connecting rod, a lengthened air hose and heavy dash panel insulation.

Cloth covered seats are sturdy and comfortable. Instrumentation is pleasingly simple and well marked in the increasingly complicated race to confuse and frustrate. Leg room is surprisingly ample for a mid-sized compact.

Instrumentation is pleasingly simple and well marked in the increasingly complicated race to confuse and frustrate.

Other small niceties include a large ignition key hold and big, rubber-cushioned glove box (for added hush). Manual seat belting is comfortable and the standard Toyota hand brake lever is still a nice touch, located between the driver's seat and console.

Under the hood, buyers have the option of the standard 1.6L DOHC, or the stronger 1.8L, 16-valve FOHC powerplant. The larger engine delivers 115 horsepower and accelerates smoothly into traffic and during passing maneuvers. The smaller motor seems a bit on the weak side although both offer amazing mileage above 30 mpg.

Corolla is equipped with either the five-speed manual or four-speed automatic transmission and it seems incumbent on owners to check both during a test drive to meet personal road needs.

Corolla 1993 is turned for stability and tight road feel with wider optional four-wheel disc brakes. Not a bad package.

Quote of the Week

I was asked to identify the deficiencies in the program. It didn't take a brain surgeon to identify a program that is horrible."

Superintendent of Wayne-Westland schools Dr. Larry Thomas discussing the alternative education program housed in the Cherry Hill Adult Education Center until closed by recent budget cuts.

Of Note

Police probe Burger King robbery

The Wayne Police Department is investigating a 12:30 a.m. Aug. 12 robbery incident at the Burger King establishment in Wayne, 33540 Michigan Ave.

Three black males allegedly entered the restaurant and ordered all the employees to get into the refrigerator in the back of the building, according to Wayne police Lt. Mel Drews.

"They were all wearing bandanas," Drews said. "They appeared to have shotguns. They escaped in an unknown direction."

The bandits took money from the cash registers. Police believe they left the area in a dark colored Escort.

Police are looking for three men approximately 5 feet, 11 inches tall. Anyone with information about the incident should contact Sgt. Chris Johnson who is heading the investigation at 721-1414.

Man charged with sexual assault

A Westland man was arraigned before 18th District Court Judge C. Charles Bokos Monday on charges of criminal sexual conduct with intent to commit penetration.

Aric Channing Trotter, 30, is being charged with sexually assaulting a 27-year-old Westland woman in a field at the end of Manistee Road, Westland police Sgt. Laura Moore said.

The woman who was walking through the field around 3 p.m. Sunday was allegedly beaten severely by a man who also attempted to rape her, Moore said.

Trotter is scheduled for a preliminary examination on Aug. 19 and is being held on $50,000 cash bond.

If convicted, Trotter could face up to 10 years in prison.

Disappearing girlfriend linked to missing truck

An incident involving a missing truck, stolen cash, and a two-timing friend could provide the background for a new Country Western tune.

According to Ypsilanti police, a Belleville man, 41, charged that his friend, a 34-year-old Ypsilanti resident, had disappeared with his truck, $500 in cash and his 29-year-old girlfriend.

The victim told police that he had cashed an $850 Social Security check and was driving with his girlfriend and the other man. The victim's friend asked to borrow $100, and the Belleville man refused. When the three stopped at an Ypsilanti party store, the second man grabbed his wallet and fled on foot with the victim in pursuit.

Although the victim was unable to apprehend the alleged thief, he recovered his wallet minus $500. He later discovered that while he was pursuing the man, the suspect ran back to his truck and allegedly drove away with the victim's girlfriend.

The victim suspects that the two were having a relationship and may be heading to Florida in his truck.

4 charged in brutal slaying of area couple

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
ANP Staff Writer

A 16-year-old girl was charged Thursday in the murders of her mother, two Westland residents and a man who lived with the girl's mother, Gladwin County Sheriff Michael Hargrave said.

Tammy LaCross, 16, and Paul Delbert Treece, 18, both from the Grand Rapids area, were arraigned on open murder charges, armed robbery, arson and felonious firearms among other charges before Gladwin County 80th District Judge Garry Allen, Hargrave said.

Two other 20-year-old men will be arraigned on open murder charges as well, Hargrave said. Hargrave said the crimes may be drug-related.

Two Westland residents were among four people shot to death and burned in a Bentley Township house fire early Sunday morning, Gladwin County Sheriff's Department officials said.

LaCross' mother, Vicky Sue Currie, 39, was one of four individuals identified by a pathologist from Sparrow Hospital in Lansing Wednesday. Westland residents Kathy Lane-Rose, 38, and Bruce Tufnell, 33, were also killed along with Mike Tufnell, 43, who lived with Currie in the Bentley Township home.

Bruce Tufnell and Kathy Lane-Rose

Investigators from the Michigan State Bridgeport Crime Lab and State Fire Marshall officials are among several police agencies assisting in the investigation.

Gladwin County Sheriff Michael Hargrave said there were no witnesses to the killings. Tufnell and Lane arrived at Tufnell's cousin's home, Mike Tufnell, Saturday evening en route to a family reunion in Harrison, Michigan, Carol Gillentine, a neighbor and friend of the family said.

The fire was discovered by police at 7:11 a.m. Sunday, but due to the severity of the blaze, officials could not enter the home until late that evening, Hargrave said. The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

Lane worked as a substitute custodian for the Wayne-Westland School District where Gillentine is also employed.

Lane's sister, Rebecca Bradley of Westland, said the family is planning memorial services from 11 a.m. - 1 p.m. Wednesday at Lents Funeral Home in Wayne. Internment will be at Cadillac Memorial Gardens in Westland.

"Everybody loved Kathy. She will be greatly missed," Gillentine said.

The Wayne-Westland custodial staff is assisting Lane's family by providing food after the memorial service, Gillentine said.

Lane leaves behind daughter Stacy Lane, son Scott Lane, granddaughter Shawna Lane, sisters Rebecca Bradley and Kimberly Rose, brothers Wayne, Charles and Jeffrey Rose and mother Jean Rose, two nieces and three nephews.

Urban sanctuary Garden provides peaceful retreat from city

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

One is nearer God's heart in a garden than anywhere else on earth.

A visit to Theresa (Terry) McNarney's backyard garden brings the words of the Dorothy Gurney poem to mind. Roses in shades of red, white and pink, honeysuckle vines and clusters of chrysanthemums highlight the Inkster resident's garden, where the sounds of nearby noisy Michigan Avenue traffic are replaced by the chirping of birds and the sounds of nature.

"Yes, there is a feeling of peace and tranquility in my garden," McNarney said. "I love to be out here. In fact, during the summer months I hate to go inside the house."

Her friend, Viola Nolan, calls McNarney's yard "a haven" in an otherwise hectic world.

"Whenever I feel stressed, I know I can go to Theresa's yard and gain a feeling of peace," she said.

McNarney moved to her home on Oakland Drive in 1950, and the garden was the special project of her mother who lived with her.

"My mother would pick out every weed by hand. She worked in the garden every day," McNarney said. "I don't like formal gardens as well as I like natural ones, so I grow a variety of annuals, perennials, bushes and shrubs in my yard. The garden constantly changes. I'm always planting something new or I dividing a plant to give away."

Strawberries and raspberries grow in the garden along with the flowering shrubs and plants. A large hydrangea - called a snowball by her grandchildren - bears flowers more than nine inches across. White and pink Rose of Sharon bushes decorate the fence line and sweet peas and day lilies pop up in the flower beds. Oregon holly, which bears yellow flowers in the spring and purple berries in the fall, provides a colorful touch.

As if the flowers were not enough to attract wildlife to the garden, several birdbaths and a feeder also are

Rumors mark firing of officer

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

The city of Inkster no longer wants the services of Patrolman Will Goldston.

Goldston, a three-year-veteran of the police force, was suspended then abruptly fired by Police Chief Terry Colwell.

In a memorandum to staff members dated Aug. 10, Colwell informed his personnel that Goldston was no longer with the department. The police chief did not offer any reason for Goldston's removal.

"This is a personnel matter and that's all I have to say about this," Colwell said during a telephone interview.

When the question of cause for the firing of the Inkster police officer was repeated, Colwell reiterated that "it was a personnel matter."

James McBride, union representative for the Inkster Police Officers' Association, did not return some 15 phone calls to his office during the past 48 hours, as of Friday.

A secretary at the UAW Region 4 headquarters said that McBride was "in conference."

Youth charged in drug-related death

By TOM MOORADIAN

A 17-year-old Inkster youth has been arrested and charged in the July 15 killing of a Westland resident.

Damon Montgomery was arraigned on charges of first-degree murder, felony firearm and unarmed robbery in the shooting death of Gary Allen Iannello. Montgomery stood mute on all three charges and the court entered a not guilty plea for the defendant, who will face a 9 a.m. Wednesday hearing on the charges in 22nd District Court.

Iannello, 29, was shot and killed in the Carlyle and Andover Road area where he and a friend reportedly ventured to purchase drugs. The victim was approached by three men who offered to sell them drugs, however, one of the three was attracted by a gold chain that Iannello was wearing. He made a grab for it, and Iannello was killed when he resisted, according to Inkster police.

"We have built a pretty solid case against the defendant," said Inkster Detective Charles Givens, who added that the defendant's two alleged accomplices have also been taken into custody and will be charged.

Givens said that the names of the two other suspects were being withheld at this time until their appearances in the court.

Charles Hunter dies at 58

Charles M. Hunter, 58-year-old former director of transportation of the Nankin Transit Commission, died Aug. 11, 1993 at University Hospital in Ann Arbor. Reportedly, Mr. Hunter died unexpectedly of an aneurysm.

Described as a man with a "heart of gold" by Joseph Benyo, legislative assistant to the Westland City Council, Mr. Hunter was a great lover of golf and a past commander of the Harris-Kehrer Veterans of Foreign War Post 3323. He was a U.S. Navy veteran of WWII.

"You could probably call Charlie a perpetual volunteer," Benyo said, "as anytime something was about to be done, Charlie would ask 'what can I do to help?'"

"He got us help quickly from the VFW when we needed to do some work on the Westland Historical Museum," Benyo recalled.

Another time, Mr. Hunter gathered a group to replace some vandalized head stones at historical Ganong Cemetery. While they were there, Benyo said, the group also trimmed the grass and picked up some scattered debris.

"When we were about to celebrate Westland's 25th anniversary, Charlie had large signs put on the buses commemorating that anniversary," Benyo continued.

"If a local charity needed some extra golfers for a fundraiser, Charlie would disappear briefly and return with the name of three or more four-member golf groups."

"Even last year when the city was about to inspect homes for Christmas display competitions, Charlie arranged for the use of a Nankin bus...all we had to do was pay for the driver's labor," Benyo said.

Survivors include his wife, Nan; a daughter, Linda (Kevin) Hunter-Millar; three sons, John M. (Michele), Robert C. (Anne) and Jacob C.; a sister, Grace Crist, and five grandchildren, Joseph, Sean, Nicole, James and Robert.

The service was conducted under the auspices of the local VFW. Cremation rites were accorded and burial was at the United Memorial Gardens of Plymouth.

Salvation Army breaks ground for new facility

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

The long-awaited Salvation Army community center across from the Norwayne Shopping Center on Venoy Road in Westland took a giant step forward recently, as the Christian organization representatives and community leaders took part in the official ground-breaking ceremonies.

Attending the event, which was staged on two acres of property donated by the City of Westland, were Lt. Col. Clarence Harvey, commander of the Eastern Divisional Headquarters of the Salvation Army, and area mayors.

Only hours before, the participants met at the Bailey Recreation Center on Ford Road to hear Harvey explain that the new center should be operational early next year.

Harvey said that the Salvation Army will be seeking about $700,000 from outside the area corporate sources to help fund the $1.15 million single-story headquarters.

Another $400,000 will be sought from businesses and individuals residing in Wayne, Westland, Romulus, Inkster, Taylor and Garden City, the communities the Salvation Army community center will be servicing.

Community leader Norm Stockmeyer has agreed to serve as honorary chairman of the local Salvation Army drive.

Other drive committee chairmen will be announced in the coming week, Salvation Army sources revealed.

A 4-by-8 foot sign also was installed at the building site stating "Future Site of the Salvation Army Wayne-Westland Corps-Community Center committed to the physical and spiritual needs of western Wayne County."

The actual construction is slated to begin Aug. 9, Harvey said.

The 12,500-square-foot building will have an earth-tone brick exterior housing a gymnasium, chapel, multi-purpose room, classrooms, activity rooms and office space.

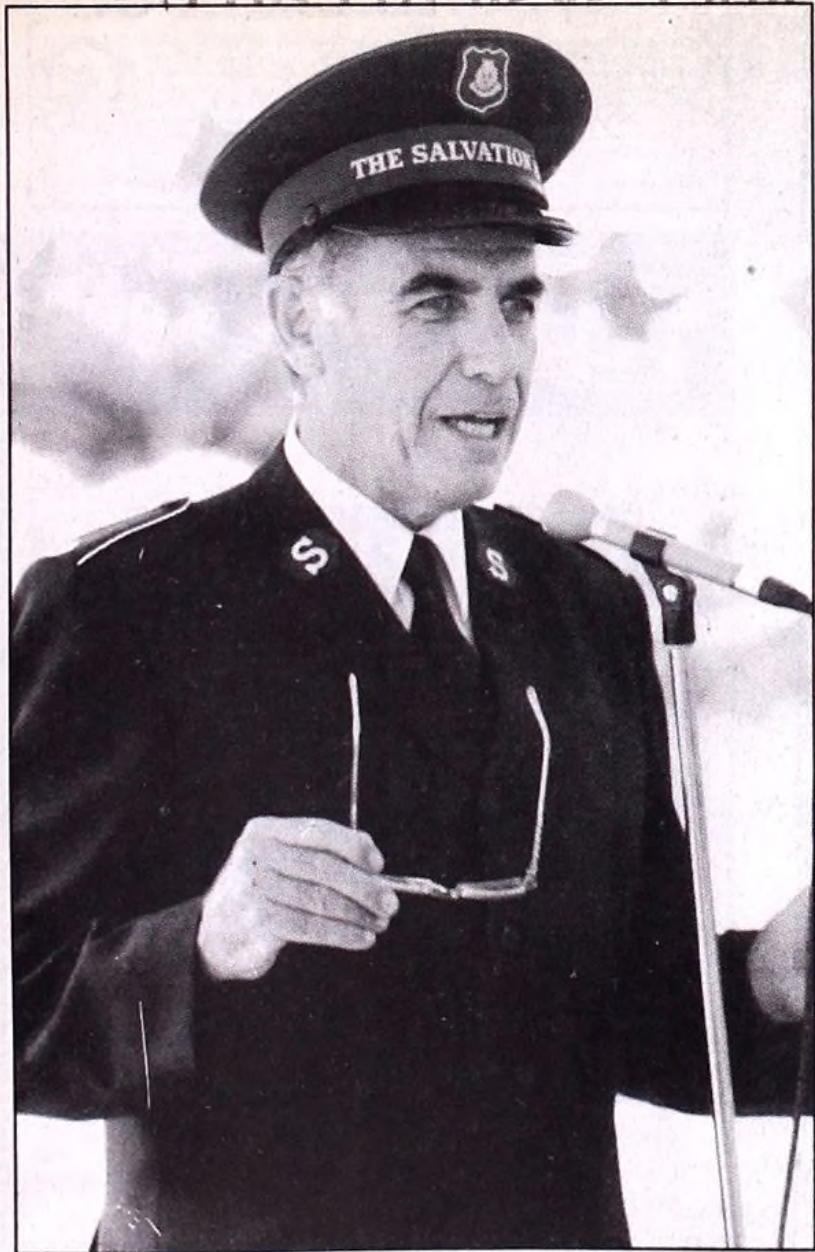

The Norwayne Salvation Army Corps recently changed its official name to Wayne-Westland Corps Community Center to more fully symbolize the areas it serves.

Lt. Donna Price was named the corps commander earlier this year.

The center, currently operating in a small storefront facility, was opened on Easter Sunday in 1989. Expansion plans have been studied for several years by the Army advisory board members.

Westland store is site of Army collection for flood victims

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

A Westland crafts store is serving as one of the key drop off areas for Midwest flood relief efforts currently being conducted by the Salvation Army of Eastern Michigan.

Lee Wards, located at 35745 Warren (across from the Westland Mall), has a large box set up inside the store for donations of linens, diapers and household cleaning supplies.

Ford Motor Co. and Rollins Trucking supplied the truck and driver free of charge.

"I would like to urge anyone who wants to make a donation to help the flood victims to contact one of the relief agencies like the Salvation Army," Lt. Col. Clarence Harvey, divisional commander, said last week.

The Detroit Lions football team joined the effort recently, as fans donated various products as they arrived for the pro teams first preseason game. Army trucks parked at each gate entrance accepted the donations.

I would like to urge anyone who wants to make a donation to help the flood victims to contact one of the relief agencies like the Salvation Army.
- Lt. Col. Clarence Harvey

All financial gifts should be designated for "Operation Noah," Harvey explained.

Former U.S. Presidential candidate Ross Perot joined the national effort last week by donating $1 million to the Salvation Army flood relief effort and challenged the public to raise $2 million toward the humanitarian drive.

If the Salvation Army gains $2 million from the public, Perot vowed, he will contribute another $1 million. Checks to match Perot's gift should be marked "Disaster Relief," Harvey said.

Wayne County Salvation Army case workers also have been asked to donate a week of service to the on-site project.

Kathy Smith, who has been serving with the Dearborn Heights Salvation Army, has been one of the first to answer the call and will soon be heading for St. Louis, Mo.

Smith, who has been a local case worker since 1990, said she will be serving either in the St. Louis area or will be deployed to another flood area. Since the service times are so intense, she explained, case workers are asked to only serve one week at a time. Depending on the length of the flood relief periods, some case workers could be called back a second or third time, Smith said.

Harvey said in addition to financial gifts, the supplies needed the most are new blankets and linens, Gatorade, paper products, baby food, disposable diapers, first aid supplies and cleaning supplies (such as buckets, mops, detergent, 30-gallon trash bags, squeegees and flat shovels).

circumstances surrounding Goldston's removal from the police force.

"I do not know the facts regarding this alleged incident," said Bivens, "but I will at my earliest opportunity seek an update on this."

The mayor was referring to unsubstantiated rumors that Goldston had an intimate relationship with one of the prostitutes that a special vice squad had arrested.

When Colwell was asked about the allegation, the police chief said "that is not true."

Asked whether the fired officer was "set up" because of his role in the arrest and felony charges against Patrolman Edward Barksdale, who has been with the narcotics unit,

I do not know the facts regarding this alleged incident, but I will at my earliest opportunity seek an update on this.

Mayor Edward Bivens

Colwell said "that isn't true." Felony charges against Barksdale were dropped last week after a hearing in 22nd District Court. However, Barksdale must answer to a misdemeanor, stemming from statements made from a drug raid in which he and Goldston apparently took part.

City officials also refuse to discuss the case.

Police seek help in murder probe

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

David Wrobell's young and troubled life ended last week with a bullet wound to the back of his head.

The 21-year-old outstanding Westland athlete was killed in Inkster in an area known for its drug-trafficking.

Now police and close relatives want to know why. And they want to know who killed him.

"David had some problems," the victim's dad admitted. "We recognize that. But there was no reason for someone taking his life."

"It's a tragedy that it had to end like this."

Wrobell apparently took a wrong turn after graduating from Westland John Glenn High School and entered the usually dead-end street of illegal drugs. He had been arrested on charges of possession of illegal substances, according to police.

On the evening that he was killed, Wrobell apparently was dropped off on the corner of Middlebelt Road and Michigan Avenue by his estranged wife. He disappeared into the darkness and was later seen in the company of a black male.

Police believe that Wrobell was killed "execution-style".

Police found the victim's body around 11 p.m. in the Le-Moyne Gardens, a public housing complex where drug activity is common. The victim was wearing a white tee-shirt, dark pants but had no identification when police examined him at the scene, according to reports.

When the victim's father appeared at the Inkster Police station soon after the slaying, he thought the police had detained his son for "something else."

He was instructed to contact the Wayne County Morgue "because they (the Inkster Police)

David had some problems. We recognize that. But there was no reason for someone taking his life.

had an unidentified body down there." The victim's father said that his son has a tattoo on his hand.

"We made a positive identification," he said.

The victim's father also believes that his son may have been carrying a checkbook at the time he was slain. He said that the checks were not with his things at the morgue.

"There's nothing more we can do to help my son," he added. "I just hope that the whoever is responsible for my son's death also gets his one of these days."

Car thieves beat woman

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
ANP Staff Writer

A Westland woman was beaten with the pay telephone receiver she was using to make a call in front of the 7-11 store on south Merriman Road in Westland early Monday morning, Westland police said.

The 26-year-old victim drove from her home to the pay telephone in the 7-11 parking lot around 7:30 a.m., police said, when three perpetrators allegedly attacked her in an effort to steal her car.

While the woman was using the phone, a perpetrator tapped her on the shoulder and when she turned, struck her in the face with his hand, police said.

The victim was knocked to the ground and one of the assailants hit the victim in the forehead with the phone receiver, police said. Another attacker asked the woman, "Have you got a car?"

The victim told the attackers she walked to the store. Again the woman was asked if she had a car and she repeated her statement, according to police reports.

Still on the ground, one of the assailants allegedly kicked her in the back. Another attacker told the one who had kicked her, "not to be so nice to her Jimmy," police reports said.

At this point, the alleged perpetrator, referred to as Jimmy, picked the woman up by the shoulders and threw her down on a concrete step injuring her back, police said.

When a citizen pulled into the parking lot, the three attackers fled the scene southbound along Merriman Road. The citizen helped the woman into her car and drove her to Annapolis Hospital emergency room where Westland police were contacted, reports said.

Police officers observed bumps on the woman's forehead and a cut below her eye.

The suspects are described as three white males, one (referred to as Jimmy) about 17 years of age, 5-feet, 8-inches tall, weighing 140 pounds with short curly blond hair, wearing a black t-shirt and shorts. Another is described as a 20-year-old, 5-feet, 9-inch, 160-pound man with long black hair, wearing a red baseball cap, blue shirt and blue jeans. The third attacker is described as a 19-year-old, 5-feet, 10-inch, 160-pound male with blond spiked hair, wearing a blue t-shirt.

placed in the yard to attract birds. A somewhat "unwelcome" guest - a raccoon - tore out the bottom of a small pond that McNerney had built, and she is looking for a way to replace it and discourage further damage by the raccoons.

"I have a lot of 'surprise' flowers. I tag all of the flowers that I plant, but sometimes the kids pull the tags off, and I'm not sure what I have until it blooms," the Inkster gardener said. "I also have Surprise Lilies. Their leaves die in the spring, and you think that the plant is dead. Then, just when you've forgotten about them, the flower springs up and blooms - surprise."

"In the spring, tulips and crocus are the first arrivals. From then on, there is something blooming all the time," she said.

Her front yard is in the process of transition from a traditional lawn to a combination of dwarf shrubs, creeping thyme and groups of flowers which are filling in to make a unique front yard garden.

With Theresa McNarney's green thumb, there can be no doubt that her current gardening project will be as successful as her flower-filled backyard.

Huzzah! Medieval days recreated in Hollygrove

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Once again, the arts, crafts, music and skills of the Middle Ages will be revived in the kingdom of Hollygrove as the Michigan Renaissance Festival launches its 14th season.

Visitors to the event may Explore the Legend on seven weekends through Sept. 26: Childhood Quest, Aug. 14-15; Renaissance Romance, Aug. 21-22; Festa Italia, Aug. 28-29; Peasant Olympics, Sept. 4, 5 and 6; Music and Dance, Sept. 11-12; Highland Fling, Sept. 18-19, and Country Wine Affair, Sept. 25-26.

Reigning over the festival will be King Edward and Queen Kathryn and their royal court. Joining in the merriment will be the Regent of Vulgaria and his entourage of evil-doers, troops of jugglers, equestrians, singers and dancers.

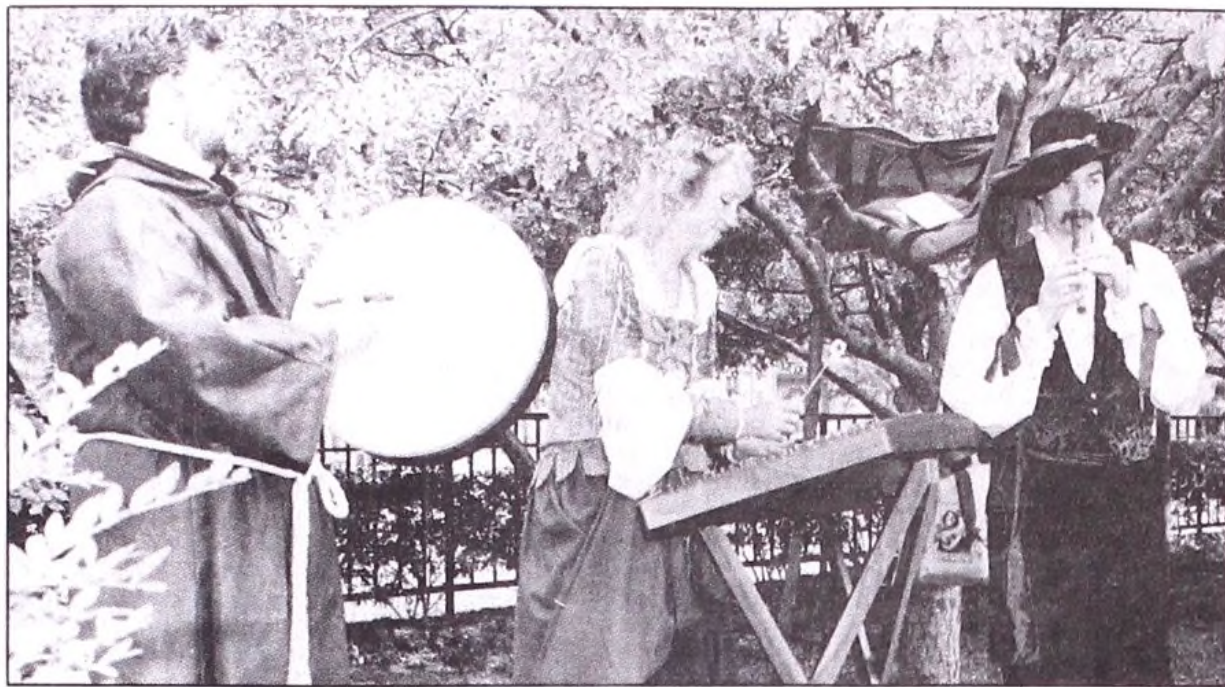

Among the participants are Glenn McDonald of Westland portraying Sir Bubbles McDeath, Todd Hissong, former Inkster resident, playing the role of sheriff, and Kevin Collins portraying Roderick, the Vulgarian valet.

When asked what lured him back for another season, veteran festival player Todd Hissong quipped, "It was the money, dental plan and above all a 45-week vacation between festivals."

"I've been with the festival for 12 out of the 14 years. The years that I didn't participate, I missed it and wondered why I didn't do it," Hissong said. "I'm doing a new sword act three times a day this season."

"It's a lot of fun, and, as usual, it's a battle of the sexes. We have two men and two women in the sword fight, and the outcome is determined by the audience," the actor said. "Usually, the women win, just like in real life. We hope to change that this year if a lot of men come out to rally us into a victory."

Anna Barnes, a performer with the Middle Eastern Dance Ensemble, noted that all of the dance routines are authentic Egyptian, Arabian, Turkish and other Middle Eastern cultures. In addition, the costumes and jewelry are authentic replicas of costumes worn in the Middle Ages.

"We wear leotards under our costumes, because performers did not show much of their skin in those days," Barnes said.

Barnes and other performers noted that their attraction to the Renaissance Festival is mainly the interaction with the people who attend the event.

"The whole scene is fun. It's great to see the people who attend also in costume. Everyone has fun," Barnes said. "It's also fun to walk around the grounds in costume and have people take pictures of me. That doesn't happen in real life."

New attractions this year include the new stages of the Tree Top and Crown theaters, Tim the Truthful, glass-blowing demonstrations, 20 new craft shops and free games for children.

Tickets are $10.95 at the gate and $9.50 in advance for adult and $5.95 at the gate and $5 in advance for children, ages 5-12. Hours are 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., rain or shine.

The festival can be reached by Interstate-75 to Exit 106, and then left onto southbound Dixie Highway.

Man enters plea in 1978 shooting death

Taking advantage of the new "Crash the Docket" program in Wayne County Courts, a former Romulus man pleaded no contest last Tuesday to the murder of his live-in girlfriend (a topless dancer) back in 1978.

The defendant, Daniel Ray Dowling, 44, now of Front Royal, Va., entered the plea in Wayne County Recorder's Court before Judge Michael Talbot. A second degree murder conviction was imposed. Dowling has chosen Judge Harvey Tennen and the sentencing date has been set for Sept. 9.

The shooting death of Joanne Lincoln, 23, on Aug. 28, 1978 occurred before the Romulus Police Department was formed. It was investigated by the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

The sheriff's department reported at that time that Lincoln was shot in the head in the apartment she and Dowling shared at Middlebelt and Ecorse. She died two days later of the wounds at University of Michigan Hospital.

Dowling reportedly was questioned after the shooting, but no charges were pressed. He claimed that the shot came through the window.

But earlier this year, a former friend of Dowling's testified at his arraignment in the 34th District Court in Romulus that Dowling admitted to him that he had accidentally shot Lincoln, after she had refused to perform oral sex for him.

Since that time Dowling has moved to Virginia, gotten married and opened a car related business.
